

How do I read this poverty table?

a person points at one answer A, the preferred one and training moves both

before
after

more likely

answer B, the other one

before
after

less likely

no one writes the ideal answer; someone only picks the better of two